Plant List

- Long season interest, that will come back year after year. Lower maintenance.
- Plants that will tolerate the soil, aspect, and light conditions on site.
- Tones and textures to give continuity across the space
- Smaller growing specimen trees to add structure, and frame the seating area, and boundaries. I have included medium sized growing trees that will give you spring flowers and autumn foliage.
- Mix of long flowering perennials, and grasses to provide interest for the users of the Centre and provide a food resource for local biodiversity and can be a teaching aid for plant propagation.
- Colour tones of blues, reds, mauves, orange and rich greens.
- Plants need to earn their keep in Scottish climate, so the longer the season of interest a plant can provide the environment, the more beneficial for people and wildlife they will be.
